SHUDDHAM - the Health and Safe Environment Project:

Shruti Foundation commenced its Shuddham project with the Ghatam Common Man's Water filter workshop (made on the basis of traditional wisdom) at India Habitat Centre on March 2, 2008. This was organized by the NEIV initiative of Shruti Foundation. The chief Guest at this event was Nafisa Ali, who is one of the users of this Indigenous Filter.

This workshop was attended by youth and women from 25 NGOs as well as Slum children. Subsequently, this Shuddham workshop was also conducted at the Happy School, a School for slum children in Gurgaon on March 20, 2008. Participation Certificates were given for both these workshops by Shruti Foundation.

Between March and September 2008, Shruti Foundation has taught the water filter technology free of cost and donated ready water filters to Happy School, a school for slum children in Gurgaon; to SIDH, an NGO in Mussoorie and others.
